GERMANS YIELD INITIATIVE ON WESTERN FRONT

Prince Rupprecht Trying to Muss Haig's New Stroke That Is Now in Full Preparation.

ALL GERMAN ATTACKS ARE REPULSED

(By the Associated Press.)
Although the Berlin military writers are admitting that the Germans can hardly regain the initiative on the western front the German high command is evidently doing its utmost to keep the British from making the most of their advantage in Flanders.

Apparently dreading the effect of the next British stroke, Crown Prince Rupprecht has been launching attack after attack upon Field Marshal Haig's troops in their advanced positions in an effort to disarrange the British plans.

Similar tactics were adopted last week on the eve of the renewed British thrust, heavy counter attacks being delivered on the evening of Sept. 25, when it became evident to the Germans that Haig was about ready to launch his drive. The record shows the effect of last week to have been futile. It is too early for the effect of the present attempt to be developed. The British commander, however, reports that the attacks, however, in number, were complete failures, the Germans not being able to make any appreciable impression on the British positions along the Ypres-Menin road and at the southeastern edge of Polygon wood, where the thrusts were delivered.

With the whole German line in Flanders hanging in the balance, as the military maps show, small surprise is expressed that the German command is making such desperate efforts to balk the British plans and is fighting hard for every inch of ground protecting the Lille-Ostend railway, a scant six miles beyond the present point of the advancing British wedge.

On their front in northern France the French are holding themselves in restraint at present, permitting the crown prince to hammer away at their lines in attacks which almost invariably are repulsed with heavy German losses.

Two attacks by the Germans in the Craonne sector on the Aisne front last night were repulsed. Efforts by the Germans on two occasions to recapture trenches which they had lost in the Beaumont region on the Verdun front also were unsuccessful. Despite the intensity of last night's air raid on England the official figures show that the four groups of German airmen making their sixth attack in eight days inflicted comparatively few casualties by the bombs they dropped. Lord

London, Oct. 2.—Londoners, despite the repeated German attempts to drop bombs upon the city, are standing the test well. Last night, when two squadrons of raiders succeeded in getting close to London and some of their number over the city, there was no panic and no untoward incident. Immediately the coming of the raiders was signalled the people in the streets scurried for cover, while motor buses and cars drew up to the curb, where the passengers alighted quickly. Within five minutes the streets were deserted virtually and a strange silence fell over the city.

Most of the offices and shops had closed before 6 o'clock, to permit their employees to reach their homes and there was only a fraction of the num-

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—W. G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, arrived here today in his speech making tour in favor of the second liberty loan. After a breakfast given in his honor by former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, Secretary McAdoo met the liberty loan staff of Indiana and bond salesmen and explained to them how the money obtained through the sale of bonds will be used. Mr. Fairbanks is to introduce Mr. McAdoo at the mass meeting in Tomlinson hall, to be held immediately after a parade, participated in by more than 1,800 troops from Fort Benjamin Harrison at noon.

McAdoo's Talk.
"When war comes to a nation, the first essential is money," said Secretary McAdoo in his talk to the liberty loan workers. "We must keep our soldiers and sailors armed and equipped with the best that money can buy and American skill devise."

"We must constantly provide them with necessary clothing and food; we

OF BENEFIT TO VISITORS.

All day tomorrow—Suburban day—at League park, on Calhoun street, three squares north of the court house, will be held the first city garden fair—not a carnival, but an exhibit of the fruits and vegetables from Fort Wayne's "war" gardens in competition for prize ribbons. This is purely an educational and inspirational event, intended for the benefit of the whole people. Therefore, visitors are especially urged to attend. It is free. Speakers Hon. Carl Vrooman, first assistant secretary of agriculture, President Stone, of Purdue, and others.

At the theaters there will be good programs at both the matinee and evening hours.

The columns of today's Sentinel team with Suburban day "Specials" designed not only to "make it worth while for the people of the Fort Wayne trading 'zone' to come to the city at this time, but also to open to the home folks the same privileges that are granted to the neighbors from the nearby cities, towns and country districts. The merchants report that the trading last Wednesday was felt more largely in the afternoon than in the morning. Tomorrow, however, it should seem advisable to do as much of the shopping as possible in the forenoon so as to allow plenty of time for attending the city garden fair in the afternoon, the full program of which is now announced.

The police authorities state that all who come to the city in automobiles may not only park in the market place, but on Calhoun street, near the entrance to the city garden fair. This will prove a convenience to many who can take their machines direct to the fair and leave them there until they are ready to leave for home.

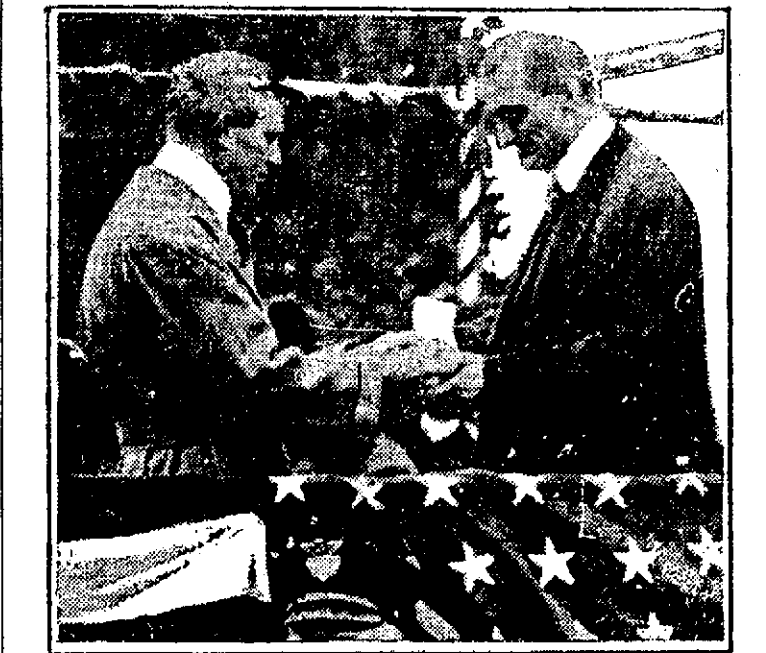

Tomorrow is Fort Wayne's third weekly Suburban Trade day. Hundreds of people in the cities, towns and farming communities for many miles around are beginning to realize that Wednesday now means "Fort Wayne day," and are governing themselves accordingly. The merchants are making special efforts to establish the day as one worth while for all who favor them with their patronage. Salesmen are on the alert to give real service. As a matter of fact, there has sprung up among the merchants a rivalry to determine who can secure the most favorable attention by giving the best prices and the best service to the out-of-town trade. This cannot but result in the establishment of the highest order of merchandising methods.

Tomorrow should prove a winner. It will be, if the people awakened to the rich array of buying opportunities which are spread before them in today's paper.

Schools will be dismissed at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. It is expected, in order that Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, may address the children. The Washington man, who has become a prominent national figure, has a special message for the members of the Boys' Working Reserve.

The Elks band will furnish music during the afternoon and evening. Prof. William Miles, of the city schools, will direct the community singing at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. Everybody who attends the free fair will be expected to join in the singing of freedom's chorus.

Fred Duryea, of the General Electric works, will operate the stereopticon machine which will throw the words of the songs to be rendered on a big screen before the grandstand. Ernest Link, the sweet singer from the Episcopal church choir, will be a soloist at the evening program. His songs have been picked by the national food relief committee. His voice will be accompanied by band music.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Treasury officials today were elated at the returns that are pouring in from all parts of the country that the appeal to raise three billion dollars for the second Liberty Loan is meeting with an enthusiastic response from the public.

Although reports from all large cities make it appear that the public welcomes the opportunity to assist the government in the present emergency, officials recognize that only a sustained, intensive drive can make the campaign a success.

It has been estimated that the volume of subscriptions must approximate $125,000,000 a day in order to attain the minimum figure of three billion dollars. The government has utilized every practical means of bringing before the people the necessity of floating the new loans. Trained speakers will address theater audiences, display advertising will greet the public eye in newspapers and on bill boards and various civic organizations will conduct a personal canvass of possible subscribers.

COAL PRICES IN NEW YORK TO BE ABOUT AS USUAL

New York, Oct. 2.—Coal which has been retailing in New York for several months at $8 and $9 a ton, will not undergo any great change in price by the ruling of Fuel Administrator Garfield, according to Arthur F. Rice, commissioner of the New York Coal Merchants' association. "It seems to us at first sight," he said, "that the method announced for fixing the retail prices of coal will keep prices at about their present level, but it will take further study to discuss the question with any certainty."

Leading coal dealers said they were perplexed over the new regulations and that the question was too complicated to be discussed at present.

GOVERNMENT GIVES OUT EXTRACTS OF HEYWOOD LETTERS

Damaging Facts Are Shown in Posses-

SEARCHING FOR I. W. W. MEN IN ARMY

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Search for alleged Industrial Workers of the World named in indictments returned here last Friday was made today in various army cantonments where, it is learned, a number of the men sought national service.

Officials here attach significance to the presence of several of the indicted men in the cantonments, all of whom are said to have gone into service without claiming exemption.

One of the charges made in the indictment is "the discovery of certain efforts of the I. W. W. to create among the registered men a feeling of disloyalty and insubordination."

Some of the evidence used by the federal grand jury in obtaining the indictments given out by the federal authorities shows that it was contained, principally in letters and pamphlets, thousands of which were distributed over the country. From a book sent by William D. Heywood, secretary-treasurer, to Duluth, Minn., to be translated into Finnish, the following was taken: "We are going to take over the industries some day for three very good reasons: 'Because we need them, because we want them and because we have the power to get them. Whether we are ethically justified or not is not our concern.'"

A letter from James Rowan, sent from Seattle, Wash., under date of August 2, to Haywood, says: "We have the good will of the German people here and we feel that they are in sympathy with our cause. We do not call them Germans, however, but refer to them the same as others, the fellow workers."

"We are going to carry our points if we have to stop every industry on the Pacific coast. We did not declare war and we have not consented to the workman giving up his liberty and being drafted."

Another excerpt from the book sent by Heywood to Duluth said: "Is a strike contemplated by the most indispensable workers—those of the alimentary trades? A quart of kerosene or other greasy and malodorous matter, poured or smeared on the level of an oven, and welcome the scabs and scabby soldiers to come and bake the bread."

"The bread will be uneatable because the stones will give the bread for at least a month the foul odor of the substance they have absorbed. Result, a useless oven."

The Haywood book suggests as a means to paralyze railroads: "It would be well to choose those workmen among the most skillful and experienced who would by a single stroke disable and render useless for some days the materials necessary for the regular performance of the service and the movement of trains."

Haywood and others are held liable for publication in the newspaper Solidarity last August.

"The I. W. W. is more than a labor organization. It is a revolutionary union. We have shown the world how to go to jail in huge numbers, exasperate the taxpayers and block the machinery of justice."

"The I. W. W. is fighting for himself. Self-preservation, like the copper trust, knows no law."

SOLDIER MAY KEEP A COW AND UNCLE SAM WILL FEED IT

Washington, Oct. 2.—Soldiers in the American army may not only keep a cow but they can feed it at government expense, provided they consume the milk, says a ruling of the judge advocate general. The decision was rendered on the question of whether feed for a cow kept by a detachment of soldiers for the production of milk for the detachment mess could legally be purchased from the ration savings in view of the regulation that such savings shall be used only for the purchase of articles of food.

Four of Miller's ribs are thought to be fractured and his side is lacerated. His side and chest are encased in a plaster cast.

The damaging blaze is thought to have started from spontaneous combustion in the heap of coal, stored on the concrete roof of the engine room at the Bowser plant. The fire was discovered by a watchman who immediately summoned city firemen. Three station companies answered the call. For more than an hour firemen

VETERANS TO MEET AT HIGH SCHOOL

Will Hold Annual Gathering and Banquet There Next Saturday.

Arrangements have been completed for holding the annual banquet of the Veterans Pennsylvania Employees' association at the Fort Wayne high school next Saturday and from the reports now in the hands of Secretary J. H. Hebrock, it is estimated there will be 300 in attendance. It was at first feared the association would not be able to hold the annual meeting this year, because the company could not, on account of the movement of soldiers and war material, furnish equipment for extra trains, but later arrangements were made to hold the meeting in Fort Wayne, instead of Valparaiso, and to handle all of the vets on the regular trains coming in about the noon hour and departing about 3 o'clock in the evening. This arrangement will give the out of town veterans ample time to attend the meeting and get back home at a reasonable hour. The day's program will include a short business session at the auditorium of the high school at 2 o'clock, at which the officers will be elected, followed by an entertainment at 3 o'clock at the Jefferson theater, where the veterans will be the guests of Walter C. Quinby, the manager. The banquet will take place at the high school, commencing at 6 o'clock and it promises to be one of the best of the many the association has held. No special speaker has been engaged for the occasion, but there will be short talks by vets, including Supt. W. M. Wardrop, of New Castle, who promises to be present, and the Carl Roemke orchestra will furnish the music. The out of town veterans will be met at the depot by the reception committee and escorted to the high school, where there will be an informal reception in their honor prior to the business meeting. The question of passing the annual meeting this year on account of the war and the very busy times on the railroad was discussed last summer, when it was decided to leave the matter to the veterans themselves. They voted almost unanimously for the association did not hold a meeting this year, because the company could not furnish equipment for handling the veterans.

SEVENTEEN CARS WRECKED.

Broken Rail Causes Blockade at New Waterford.

All westbound passenger trains on the Pennsylvania, which were due at New Waterford, Ohio, after 10 o'clock Monday night, were late in reaching Fort Wayne this morning. They had to make a detour on account of a freight wreck, which completely blocked the road at that point. Seventeen cars of a freight train were derailed by a broken wheel and piled up promiscuously on the tracks at New Waterford, causing a blockade which was not broken until some time this morning. It is understood that none of the train crew was hurt, but the property loss was considerable. New Waterford is ten miles east of Alliance, Ohio, on the Eastern division.

Erber, chairman; G. Lubbanans, E. E. Stickley, C. M. Myers and D. Vos.

ONE HUNDRED WANT SCHOOL HEAD JOB

Fort Wayne Position Calls to Capable Educators of Middle West.

One hundred educators from the principal cities of the middle west and as far away as Nebraska have made application for the position of superintendent of the Fort Wayne schools, which place was made vacant by the death of Prof. J. N. Study, four-weeks ago.

C. H. Jordan, principal of schools of St. Joseph, Missouri, was in Fort Wayne Monday afternoon, to present his application in person before the local school board. Mr. Jordan is known as a capable school man.

Nearly half of those who are asking for the place as director of Fort Wayne schools have come in person before the board members. The men who are conducting the policies of the city schools have been called upon by educators during nearly every hour of the day and night, they state.

Three women well known in school affairs of the Mississippi valley, have asked to be considered for the position as successor to the late Prof. Study. School board members do not give out their opinion of the abilities of a woman in that office.

All those who have requested a chance to pilot the course of the local schools have spoken highly of the standing of the Fort Wayne system among educators. The Fort Wayne school plan is held to be among the most progressive of the middle west.

"The high opinion of those who come to us from afar only serves to make the school board more cautious in the choosing of a successor to Prof. Study, whose untiring effort was largely responsible for the standing of the Fort Wayne schools," said Ernest W. Cook, president of the board of education, Monday evening.

"The board is now engaged in the process of elimination," the school board member went on. "We are reading out the little fellows. We are going to take plenty of time in making our choice from the most capable."

School board members state that a special meeting of the board will be called to render a final decision in the matter of choosing a school head after eliminations have reduced the field of applicants to less than a dozen.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Advertisement.

NO WONDER THEY'RE WAITING FOR SECTION C, SOUTH WOOD PARK TO BE PLATTED FOR HOME SITES

ONE OF THE PICTURESQUE CORNERS OF THE NEW PORT ION OF SOUTH WOOD PARK.

The above photograph made a few days ago in the newest section of South Wood Park, Fort Wayne, gives a little idea of the rustic beauty of the place. Big trees and rolling ground offer many attractive building sites. The ground is now platted, and as soon as the engineers give the finishing touches, which will be within the next few days, those who desire lots in this beautiful south side tract will be welcome to make their choice. Hilgeman & Schaaf, who are developing the entire South Wood park area, are working hard to have the new tract ready for visitors within the coming week, although many are even now "prospecting" there and have made tentative selections for home sites. This particular spot is located west of Idlewood road, the diagonal automobile drive which extends southeast from the junction of Broadway and Rudisill boulevards.

TAMING THE BOASTERS.

Members of the Industrial Workers of the World, some of whose leaders are now in jail, already have begun to make a great boasting of their intents and purposes. Boasting is a regular part of the I. W. W. "business," just as a low sort of espionage is a part of the regular "business" of Prussian diplomacy, and still further in resemblance of it is a thing to which there is no end.

Fast upon the arrest of Heywood and other leaders the still unmolested adherents of the Heywood dynamite cult began to boast of the resources of the I. W. W. organization for defense. There was in hand a half-million bundle and as much more "where that came from." No doubt the organization has or will have money for the defense of its leaders. In whatever interests its disloyalty and sedition have been exerted, the labor can scarcely have been without material compensations. But there will be some reluctance of these interests to come further into the game. The federal government knows too much already respecting the activities of the I. W. W. to encourage the secret employers of that element to take greater hazards.

Boasting is the long suit of the I. W. W. On the day following the lynching of the lawless lawyer Little, at Butte, the local crew of the organization began its boasting of knowing the identity of the lynchers and of its purpose to "get them" forthwith. Up to this time no one has been uncovered as having been of the small mob that took Little from his bed to a railroad bridge in the environs of Butte and hanged him without shirt. No sooner had the people of Arizona bundled the I. W. W. disturbers into cattle cars and shipped them without time for adieu out of the state than there began the boasting of the I. W. W. that the consequences to Arizona would be such as the state would not bear with comfort. Nothing has been done. So, too, in respect of the federal government, which placed the imported men in a barbed-wire compound in New Mexico and kept them under guard. Uncle Sam would learn what it meant to monkey with the sacred persons of the "Wabblers." The answer to that was a nation-wide raid of the I. W. W. quarters, the detention of some of those in charge, the seizure of tons of "literature" and documents and the latest sequel of wholesale indictments in a federal court of the men identified with the leadership of the society.

The fact is that the I. W. W. does nothing it cannot do in the dark. There is not going to be much darkness and secrecy for that precious element of our complex society. The federal agents are among them and what is done has ceased to be secret. Boasting is cheap and bootless. So it will prove in the case of the Industrial Workers of the World. The government has possessed itself of enough evidence to procure prompt indictment of many scores of the leaders and, if it cares to go farther, of thousands of the rank and file of the organization. If the organization is so well fixed for funds as it now boasts, we believe there would be no great delay on the part of Heywood and some of his lieutenants in availing themselves of the immunity it would give them from further confinement in jails.

WHY BUY LIBERTY BONDS?

There still may be some persons in the country able to invest in Liberty Loan bonds who wonder why they should.

It would be a practical answer to such persons to say that the government's bonds are the finest investment that can be found. They are perfectly safe. They pay a good rate of interest. They are not taxable for any purpose except as the possession of enough of them produces an income within the scope of the federal income surtaxes. They are the most convenient form of investment for immediate liquidation. Indeed, they are as liquid as currency. They give no trouble, cause no anxiety and run for a long period. As an investment they have every quality that can be desired.

Beyond all this is the better reason that to buy Liberty Loan bonds is a patriotic duty that falls upon all who are able to pay for them. The government needs the money to carry on its righteous war against autocracy that our own nation may be made secure and that democracy all over the world may dare seek a place in the sun. Men by the million are going from home to fight for their flag. The government must support the patriotic valor of these men with everything that can discount the cost in blood and make their fighting victorious. This can be done only with unlimited money. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo thus sums up the duty of patriots and makes clear why we are at war and why we must support the government and through the government the army:

People by thousands ask the treasury constantly how they can help the government in this war. Through the purchase of Liberty Bonds every one can help. No more patriotic duty can be performed by those who cannot actually fight upon the field of battle than to furnish the government with the necessary money to enable it to give our brave soldiers and sailors all that they require to make them strong for the fight and capable of winning a swift victory over our enemies. We fight, first of all, for America's vital rights, the right to the unmolested and unobstructed use of the high seas, so that the surplus products of our farms, our mines and our factories may be carried into the harbors of every friendly nation in the world. Our welfare and prosperity as a people depend upon our right of peaceful intercourse with all the nations of the earth. To abandon these rights by withdrawing our ships and commerce from the seas upon the order of a military despot in Europe would destroy prosperity and bring disaster and humiliation upon the American people.

We fight to protect our citizens against assassination and murder upon the high seas while in the peaceful exercise of those rights demanded by international law and every instinct and dictate of humanity.

We fight to preserve our democratic institutions and our sovereignty as a nation against the menace of a powerful and ruthless military autocracy headed by the German Kaiser, whose ambition is to dominate the world.

We fight also for the noble ideal of universal democracy and liberty, the right of the smallest and weakest nations equally with the most powerful to live and to govern themselves according to the will of their own people.

We fight for peace, for that just and lasting peace which agonized and tortured humanity craves and which not the sword nor the bayonet of a military despot but the supremacy of vindicated right alone can restore to a distracted world.

To secure these ends I appeal to every man and woman who resides upon the soil of free America and enjoys the blessings of her priceless institutions to join the League of Patriots by purchasing a Liberty Bond.

There is both the statement of duty and the broad ground of duty. We are fighting for peace, as Secretary McAdoo says, and as everybody in America knows. We are not after a foot of alien soil. We want only to protect our own and make it safe for ourselves and our posterity forever. As the fathers won it by fighting and preserved it by fighting, so their sons must now secure its perpetuity by fighting. Each and all who aid the cause of the nation by lending their money to the government will also be enlisted in and fighting for that same great cause.

GET IN THE WAR GARDEN FAIR.

There are a good many of Fort Wayne's people who should take an uncommon pride in being exhibitors in Fort Wayne's war garden fair at the baseball park tomorrow. Among the hundreds who gave soil and time and hard work to the duty of their bit for the country in that way there must have been a good many to whom cultivation of the soil was wholly a new and untried task.

Whatever may have been the result of this patriotic adventure into new fields, the fruit itself ought to be shown. Those who have grown something that can be exhibited now ought on no account to fail to be among those represented in the display. It also will be worth while for the people of Fort Wayne in general and those from the country surrounding, who will be in for Interurban Day, to look at this exposition of the fruits of city gardening.

It is ceased now to be of so much concern what was accomplished in the summer just closed by way of increased production on vacant lots and in back yards. The supervening question now relates to next year. There must be more of it and we believe this war garden exhibit will give impulse for more of it. The great farming interests are expected to do their share in making a vast increase of the grains next year and every bushel of that can be made two if the people in general will undertake to raise in war gardening the equivalent of the surplus wheat and rye and corn that is urged and expected.

Give your interest for a day to the war garden fair.

Reassurances that Governor Goodrich is now in practical certainty of a full recovery affords the people of Indiana a deal of relief. The governor is needed today more than he has ever been at any other time of his life.

Considering the confusion in the coal industry and the absence of fuel from many bins, the conduct of the weather is simply beautiful.

Aerial Mail Service

(Christian Science Monitor.)

The European war has been a most important factor in the development of aviation, yet it has acted as a powerful hindrance to the general utilization of the flying machine. It has absorbed by far the greater part of the world's output of these mechanisms, and it has drawn into its activities trained aviators as rapidly as they have attained experience and skill. Not everything is commonly known, because not all can be told, concerning the degree of efficiency to which the belligerent nations have brought their military and naval aerial forces. Such information as the censors have permitted to become public, however, is of a character to convince the interested observer that, with the dawn of peace, aviation along general utilitarian lines will take a secure place beside railroads and shipping, and as a close competitor of both.

In the war zones, the machine and the operator have been compelled to contend against obstacles and to overcome difficulties that would never present themselves in normal conditions. Inventive genius has been constant and unremitting in its effort to render the enemy's aeroplanes and dirigibles harmless. Anti-aircraft guns are constantly sweeping the sky with the purpose of "bringing down" the aviators, and where the long range gun is not a factor, the aviator is running under, or over, or through fleets of enemy machines, his plane at once a target and a battery. Navigation in such circumstances is, perhaps, the least hazardous of the aviator's tasks. He manages and steers his machine mechanically while he is attacking or attempting to escape. It is not a question of meeting or overcoming unfavorable natural conditions; it is not a question of engine control; none of the dangers of which the early aviators were conscious, and none of the fears that beset them, troubles the aerial fighter. Keeping aloft with the aid of the planes and the engine has become a minor consideration; keeping aloft despite the projection of droppings of shells and the peppering of bullets from earth and sky is the principal thing.

Insecurity of aviation in the sense that obtained before the war is now given no more thought than is bestowed on insecurity of travel by steam, or motor car, or boat. The experimental stage in aerial navigation has passed. Experience at the front has made it apparent that, under normal conditions, travel by air is no more unsafe than travel by land or water. We believe the conviction is now strong and common among practical people, as well as among theorists, that, as soon as tranquility is restored to the world, the air will be, as it were, alive with flying machines, the great majority of which will be engaged in useful activities.

There was nothing premature, therefore, in the recommendation of the United States postoffice department to congress that $100,000 should be set aside for the purpose of putting into operation an aerial mail service between New York and Chicago. In asking for this money, Postmaster General Burleson said:

"The flights of Ruth Law and Victor Carlstrom were much more difficult and remarkable than the regular trips we are planning. They had no help along the route, whereas, we would provide everything that could be thought of."

It will seem like gross negligence of opportunity on the part of the United States government if, with all its advantages, it does not, without needless delay, establish aerial mail service. The project need not be entered upon in a too extensive or costly fashion. It, at least, may be inaugurated. Then those familiar with the time and labor required to get the rural delivery, the parcel post and the postal savings bank systems started, and with the rapidity of the growth of those systems, once under way, will look forward to the speedy growth of aerial mails, when the first trunk line, that from New York to Chicago, for instance, is found to be in successful operation.

Improved and stabilized aeroplanes, as experience has shown, are almost as dependable as any other mode of carriage for passenger or freight now known. Improvements that have been checked in recent months, by reason of the urgency of orders upon the builders, will, with the end of the European conflict, be adopted. Nobody at all informed as to the present and prospective aeroplane will doubt the feasibility of a New York-Chicago service. Let that be successfully instituted and the demand for air routes will soon become as persistent and urgent as was the demand for rural postal routes in the early days of that service.

Mail by air routes! Why not?

The famous Mayo brothers head the committee on surgery and are backed up by specialists almost as eminent. Everything is being provided for, even to the accurate reporting and writing of the medical history of the war.

RETURN OF MARKET BASKET.

(Springfield, Mass., Republican.)

The war is leading this country and the world toward simpler living. Our part in the transformation from luxury to frugality has been as yet a small one, but we are moving that way. When food becomes difficult to obtain, nobody cares about fancy methods of transporting it. The thing then, is somehow to get the supplies. While women in Europe stand in bread lines, too many housekeepers in this country find it disconcerting to carry bundles home. The contrast establishes the foolishness of one of our social conventions, and we shall be doing wisely to make humble carrying popular before it becomes absolutely necessary.

The most intelligent shopper has always ignored the telephone, and gone to market herself. Those hitherto unaccustomed to do this have been surprised to find how much better results are to be gained by picking out the meats, vegetables or fruits that are to enter the home. In this way, and by carrying purchases home the housekeeper knows that everything needed is on hand. In the old days market baskets were plentiful and the best housekeepers deemed them indispensable.

There are some old cities in this country where marketing in person has never been abandoned by leading people. They have kept a continuing realization that the comfort of the household depends very much upon the dining room. Ease of mind and conscience are assured when the keeper of the home has done her duty at the market. She pays for what she gets, and her accounts are never behind or confused. Everything which comes upon her table is seasonable and fresh. The best ordered home is never embarrassed by the delay of delivery wagons. Peace of mind and repose of soul there prevail to bless all who dwell under the roof.

A large element in the achievement of such a home atmosphere is a market basket that is never neglected nor forgotten. In the light of these things the men of the country welcome the crusade that is being made by the women's committee of the council of national defense, the home preparedness leagues and other organizations who urge the housewives of this nation to go to market as their grandmothers did, pick out their supplies, pay cash for them and carry them home.

ARGUMENTS FOR CORN.

(Springfield Republican.)
In urging the more general use of corn meal for making bread Mr. Hoover does not stop with pointing out that there are four bushels of corn raised in this country to every one of wheat. He tells the country that there is twice as much nutritive value in $1 worth of corn as in $1 worth of wheat bread at present prices. In other words, nature has pointed out the path of service.

Dr. D. D. Weissel and Frank D. Edmunds are about to manufacture their new repeating bell in wholesale lots. E. B. Kunkle, manager of the Safety Valve works, has been manufacturing them until these gentlemen could make preparations. Dr. Weissel is now in the east in the interest of the invention. The company will probably locate here, though they have had some very flattering offers from other places. They expect to employ at least fifty hands at the start. A large number of orders have been received and it will take steady employment to fill them.

THE FIGHTING WEST ROLLS UP ITS SLEEVES AND PREPARES TO GO IN AND MAKE THE WORLD SAFE

Daily Sentinel Correspondent Looks Upon the Boys at Camp Bowie and Finds They Are Good—Here is the Message of Texas to the Kaiser.

By EDWARD A. EVANS.
(Staff Correspondent of the Daily Sentinel.)

Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 2.—Years ago when dueling was still a popular occupation in the southwest, knives were weapons almost as much used as six-shooters.

One Texan invented a particularly effective dueling knife. I'm a trifle hazy about Colonel Bowie's other claims to fame.

But I'm certain he'll be remembered because Camp Bowie and the Bowie knife bear his name. As the knife was efficient, so the Texas and Oklahoma guardsmen training here seem eminently good fighting material.

Camp Bowie has a soldier type all its own—men look lean and sun-browned; rangers and cowboys and all well drilled. There are many Indians from Oklahoma, too.

Many of them are fighting sons of fighting pioneer fathers. And the way they're learning the science of modern warfare makes their officers proud.

I came to Camp Bowie during a general inspection. The guardsmen stood in long rows upon a Texas hillside.

Groups of officers passed up and down, critically examining the rifles, the mess kits, shoes, uniforms and other equipment. Faults that seemed trivial were dwelt upon. But I learned a few things in the army are really trivial.

Why must you be so particular?" I asked.

"A broken shoe," he explained, "might mean a lame and disabled soldier. A dirty cooking or eating vessel might mean a sick soldier."

I was invited to see foot inspection. I'd had an idea the individual soldier was allowed pretty much to take care of his own feet.

Now I saw my mistake. Each soldier sat on his cot, bare feet stuck out. A medical officer passed, inspecting every toe and prescribing treatment of blisters, bruises and ingrowing nails.

I was seeing a little of the infinite detail in preparing America's great army.

I saw Camp Bowie again early in the morning, as the bugles were blowing assembly. I think I gained then my best idea of the real magnitude of the army Uncle Sam is training.

There are about 17,000 soldiers in training here—a small part of the whole army.

"Lunge!" And this is how they did, at the dummy German soldiers, at Camp Bowie.

But as I watched, the valley where I stood filled with marching men. I looked at the hillside beyond, and they, too, were covered. Far off to my left I saw groups of tiny dots that were infantrymen, and groups that were cavalry. Soldiers were all about me—armies of them; I would have guessed, had I not known that they were only 17,000.

I watched a group of army engineers, armed with bayonets, make a vigorous attack on haybale "Germans" wired to gallows-like frameworks.

"Lunge!" came the command. The soldiers, each taking a long step forward, buried their bayonets in the bales with a force that made the framework creak.

"Thrust!" This time the forward step was omitted, but again the gleaming blades pierced the harmless bales. Nearby were short trenches, empty. "We'll use them later," said the officer. "They'll be filled with dummy Germans and our men will be ordered to storm with bayonets."

"Still later it's probable some of the soldiers will have to defend the trenches against bayonet attack. Of course, then we'll use wooden weapons, or put guards on the steel ones."

In another part of the camp I watched artillery practice—with dummy cartridges. The artillerymen learning how to aim.

"Number one, seven-point-two," would come an order. There would be great activity about the breech of the first gun in line. The muzzle would swing. A dummy cartridge would be slipped into place and locked. "Fire!"

But instead of an answering roar would come only a tiny click, as the firing pin hit the dummy cartridge.

I watched other artillerymen learning to mount and dismount, from gun carriages. They were sitting, stiff, backes and with folded arms, four on each gun carriage. At a command, with one quick motion, they would vault over the wheels to their stations beside the carriage. Over and over again they went through this.

I watched cavalrymen dashing about, learning that in the army there is just one correct way to ride. I watched signal corps men, practicing the complicated system of flag waving. And I gained a pretty vivid idea of what America's faces in preparing to train, manure, feed, clothe and arm an army of millions instead of thousands.

MAYOR ARRAIGNED IN HOMICIDE CASE

Chief Executive of Philadelphia and Others Appear in Court.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2.—Mayor Smith and eleven co-defendants including a city police lieutenant and two alleged New York gunmen, were arraigned for a hearing before Judge Charles L. Brown in the municipal court here today in connection with the political feud which resulted in the killing of a policeman and the black-jacking of several politicians here on primary election day. All of the defendants are charged with conspiracy to commit aggravated assaults and murder.

In addition to the mayor the others arraigned were William E. Finley, a city official, alleged to have paid for the hire of the men responsible for the murder; Isaac Deutsch, leader of one of the factions in the Fifth ward where the disorder occurred; Police Lieutenant Bennett, in command of the district; Michael Murphy and John Wirthshafter, detectives; Clarence H. Hayden, Lewis Feldman and Louis Gram, policemen; Jacob Mascia, charged with the actual shooting, and John Costello, of New York, and James Clark, a local politician accused of leading the gunmen through the ward. State Senator James P. McNichol and James A. Carey, opponent of Deutsch for the leadership of the ward, who was blackjacked the day of the murder, two of the commonwealth's principal witnesses, were unable to attend the hearing. McNichol is confined to his bed with heart trouble and Carey's physician said his patient's condition prevented him from appearing.

SOCIETY

The members of a bridge club of which Miss Martha Vail is a member, met at her home in South Webster street, last evening for a regular meeting of the club. Much to the astonishment of the guests when they were seated for the refreshments, the announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Vail to Mr. Paul G. Stevens was made, and it included the date of the marriage, which will be Monday, October 15. Mr. Stevens is a son of Mrs. Lulu M. Stevens, of East Berry street, and is second lieutenant in the quartermaster's department at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky. Lieut. Stevens enlisted in the officers' reserve corps and received his commission at Camp Fort Benjamin Harrison. Previous to entering the army, Mr. Stevens was manager of the Elliott-Fisher company. He was graduated from Howe Military school and acted in the capacity of assistant treasurer at the Majestic theater and afterwards as treasurer for the Palace theater for his earliest business ventures. Miss Vail enjoys as high a degree of confidence and good will as does Mr. Stevens, while her cordial and unaffected manner and many fine qualities of young womanhood have endeared her to many acquaintances both at Ferry Hall, near Chicago, where she attended school, and at home. The announcement was made by the use of kewpie dolls, dressed to represent a soldier, a bride, a bridesmaid and a flower girl. Beautiful flowers expressed a combination of colors, pink, yellow, white and blue and were altogether lovely in arrangement. Mrs. Ben Schwartz and Miss Lucille Vail assisted in serving after the bridge game. Miss Vail is going to Louisville, Ky. to be married and she will be accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

A. T. Vail, and her sisters, Miss Lucille Vail and Mrs. Schwartz.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Benninghoff have returned from their trip to Chicago and other points.

Mrs. Charles Bohn, of 1717 Reid-miller avenue, is to entertain the Dwyck club tomorrow afternoon.

The woman's association of Hope hospital will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the hospital parlors.

Mrs. John Thompson, of 506 Madison street, is entertaining her father, W. C. Covert, of Chicago, this week.

Misses Katherine Savary and Rose Murphy have returned from a ten days' visit in Anderson and Indianapolis.

There will be a meeting this evening of the South Side Reading club with Mrs. Courtney, of South Harrison street.

Mrs. John J. Collins has gone to Chicago where she will meet her sister, Mrs. Anna Runde, and with her make visits to several western cities.

Mrs. Fred H. McCulloch has returned from a trip to Atlantic City, Washington and other points, on which she accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Foster.

Mrs. M. S. Mahurin is in Elkhorn, Wis., visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Harris, and on her way home will stop at Chicago university to visit Miss Marjorie Mahurin.

Mrs. E. W. Puckett, Mrs. W. D. Henderson and Mrs. Perry Archer are to entertain a knitting party for increasing proceeds for the local Red Cross treasury, next Monday afternoon.

The wedding of Miss Clara M. Nichter and Mr. Clement Schneider will take place in St. Paul's Catholic church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Father Kroll will officiate.

Miss Margaret Wagenhals, of New York city, is visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Wagenhals, for two weeks. Miss Mildred Wagenhals is coming home from Aurora the latter part of the week for a visit.

James Jackson, son of the late August Jackson, formerly of this city, but now residing in Pittsburgh, with his mother, left that place on Monday and went to Pennington, N. J., where he enters the university for a course in engineering.

Miss Evelyn Maguire entertained in honor of Carl H. Bartels, who is at home from Fort Thomas for a visit, in a delightful manner. The guests enjoying the pleasant time were Ed Scherer, Walter Koenig, Paul Gerhardt, Irvin Steir, Len Luley, Eric Baude, Agnes Lamboly, Florence Trowbridge, Matilda Boyce, Madeline Geiger, Anna Pulver, Gladys Groman, Mayme Leonard.

Miss Vesta Maxwell and Mrs. T. E. Below and children, of Paris, Texas, are guests of their sister, Mrs. F. H. E. Koopman, of 2414 South Harrison street. Mrs. Koopman has also as her guest, Miss Ethel Todd, formerly of Wabash, but now engaged in missionary work in Tokio, Japan. This is the first visit Miss Todd has made since her entering the missionary field and she is engaged to give several talks about mission work.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester C. Schlink, of 3222 South Burr street, delightfully entertained on Saturday night the Edson Plymbo quartet. Music and progressive games were enjoyed and a prize was won by Alfred Schell. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Schlink. The company presented Mr. and Mrs. Schlink with a fine gift. There were present Al Kleinrickart, Ike Kleinrickart, Judge Mungovan, Bud Rohyans, W. Boyce, B. Schell, Q. Kessen and Hans Wagner.

One of the pleasant affairs of the week was that tendered Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hite, of 2905 South Calhoun street, on Sunday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Hite's birthday anniversary. An excellent dinner was served at 6 o'clock. There were present Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Carto and children, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hite, of Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. William Hite, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Graffmiller, Miss Pauline Hite and Charles Hite, also of Decatur.

Mrs. Herbert Wagenhals leaves this evening for Atlanta, Ga., where Mr. Wagenhals, who is a sanitary engineer in the service of the United States government, has been doing work in the vicinity of Camp Borden in keeping malaria at a safe distance and other similar work in Atlanta. Mrs. Wagenhals and little son have been here with her mother, Mrs. Charles Orr, for some weeks and will be accompanied by the child to Atlanta, where she will remain as long as Mr. Wagenhals is stationed there.

Misses Laura and Gladys Hanes, of Winter street, gave a farewell party in honor of August Hoffman, who is soon to leave for Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky. Mr. Hoffman received an appropriate gift in the way of a military set. The guests spent a pleasant time and they were Esther Miller, Helen Doenges, Lydia Bullermann, Ethel Miller, Josephine Hoffman, Amelia Brown and Messrs. Ben Hoffman, Ralph Reiter, Roy Smith, Ernie Lewis, William McNulty and Simon Hanes.

A delightful surprise party was given on Mrs. George R. Rupley at her home on South Wayne avenue, Saturday evening. Mr. Rupley planned and arranged the party, and it proved a success in every way. Music was furnished by Messrs. Walter E. Fox and John N. Baier. An elaborate luncheon was served late in the evening.

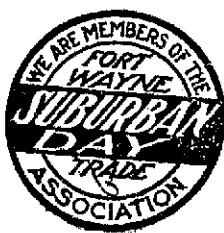

Sixty-one guests, who greatly enjoyed the affair, were the following, including the immediate Rupley family: Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Young, Amelia Young, Theresa Young, Mr. and Mrs. John Bleke, Mrs. William H. CREATING A FURORE AT THE PALACE THIS WEEK have been treated both in the vocal part and in the orchestration and in manner that proves at all times grateful to the ear. Indeed it is the music that has aided so materially in making "The Girl Who Smiles" a distinct tuneful hit.

The author and composer took a rather pretty story of a girl who had lived all her life in a joyless home, ruled over by a martinet of a father. In order to escape from the man chosen to be her husband, Maria runs away and finds herself in the Latin quarter of Paris. She marries a penniless artist and is cast off by her father, but in the end she returns to her home and her little baby thaws out the sour face of the old man, so that the final curtain shows him smiling at last.

The production is made in exactly the proper key to bring out the attractive qualities of the operetta. It is staged and costumed with utter smartness, and the singing cast is an excellent one, including such well known artists, who, prior to their association with "The Girl Who Smiles," made their work tell in such a fashion as to leave an indelible impression upon the theater-goers, who have a particular fondness for entertainment combining vocal and dramatic endeavor of a high order.

DON'T BELIEVE IN SPEED ORDINANCES

T. J. Foley Declares They Induce Carelessness and Cause Accidents.

Thomas J. Foley, vice president of the Illinois Central company, a former Fort Wayne man and employee for many years of the Pennsylvania, believes that slow speed ordinances and other laws of the towns and villages through which steam roads pass, are responsible for many of the crossing accidents. In a circular to trainmen and engineers, Mr. Foley says in part: "I have not heard that there is a disposition anywhere to co-operate with the railroads by removing unreasonable speed restrictions. Shipments have taken a lively interest in co-operating with the railroads in increasing their efficiency, but the authorities in the villages, towns, cities and states have not done anything. Perhaps this is because they have not been asked to do so. I think it would be meet and proper for you gentlemen to discuss this matter with the people whenever you have an opportunity. "Speed restrictions are intended to make it safer for pedestrians and occupants of vehicles, both horse-drawn and motor-propelled, regardless of the inconvenience to transportation. It is thought by many that if trains are required to go through towns slowly and softly, with engines and trainmen on the lookout, that there will not be so much danger of accidents. The effect of this is to educate the public to become careless about railroad tracks. There ought never to be anything done towards teaching the public that railroad tracks are safe. The public ought to be taught that they are dangerous in the extreme, and the more dangerous they are the more care will be taken by the people themselves to avoid accidents. The idea of placing responsibility on the railroads for safety at railroad crossings is wrong. In theory it sounds fine, but in practice it does not prevent accidents. I believe the tendency of the people to rely on crossing flagmen, gates and alarm bells, instead of relying on their own facilities, has been responsible for more crossing accidents than it has prevented. Crossing flagmen occasionally err in giving signals and this results in accidents. The most approved gates once in a while get out of order, for a short time, it is true, but usually long enough to cause an accident. The same is true of alarm bells, and even when they are in order they ring so much that the public become neglectful of them. Crossings considered the most dangerous, we know from experience, are the scenes of fewer accidents than crossings considered comparatively safe. If speed restrictions were removed, in my opinion, accidents would not increase, because the people would become educated to look out for themselves at railroad tracks, instead of depending upon others to look out for them."

NOT ALL ALIKE.

There is little in a name after all. George Gertes, laborer, is in the county jail serving a sentence because he cursed the American flag. There is another George Gertes, formerly employed in a local brick yard and who lived at 1529 St. Mary's avenue, who is now in the army of freedom and is encamped at Gettysburg, Pa.

SCHLOSSER'S OAK GROVE ICE CREAM

The Packard Interpreter

Have your FINGERS ever learned music? Do you know that the fingers of an accomplished pianist feel the tone itself? They carry out the TECHNIQUE. They get to the right place, at the right time, in the right way. This calls for PRACTICE—and lots of it.

A great musician said to a friend of his: "If I don't practice for twenty-four hours, I can tell the difference; if I don't practice for forty-eight hours, MY FRIENDS can tell the difference; and if I don't practice for seventy-two hours, the public can tell the difference."

But YOU have been busy—haven't had the time to "teach your fingers" that intricate, intimate TOUCH And you don't feel that you will ever have the time to do it.

The PACKARD PLAYER PIANO was invented and perfected for you. It supplies you with the TOUCH. Its mechanical fingers do the feeling. IT NEVER MISSES. But it does something even more remarkable than that; it carries out all the DELICACY of technique that your own mind desires. It is possible of the MOST REMARKABLE CONTROL. It will give you music so free from "mechanical" effects, even accomplished musicians won't know the difference.

In a word, the PACKARD PLAYER PIANO gives you music.

It will supply you with music that pianists could not play except after YEARS of practice.

Now, it doesn't make any difference how much musical pleasure you may get at homes of friends, in restaurants, at theaters or concerts; it's still borrowed music. It isn't at all like the kind that's "made at home." And these players DO give you "home-made" music that's up to the best standards of piano playing.

THE PACKARD PLAYER PIANO was perfected to overcome any LACK of musical education a person might have. You don't need a teacher—don't need to SUFFER while you are teaching stiff fingers to strike the right keys.

Packard Player Pianos, $600 to $950. Moderate Terms.

DEATH CLAIMS LOCAL PIONEER

Michael J. Tancey, Justice of Peace 43 Years, is Dead.

CAME TO UNITED STATES IN 1857

Had Been a Resident of Fort Wayne for About Fifty-Eight Years.

Michael J. Tancey, 78 years old, a pioneer justice of the peace of Wayne township, died at 8:45 o'clock Tuesday morning from a complication of dis-cases brought on by his advanced years. Death occurred at his home, 210 Brackenridge street.

Mr. Tancey had not been feeling well for some time, but his condition did not become alarming until a few days ago.

The deceased was born December 16, 1838, at Carramore, Croghan, Roscommon county, Ireland, and came to this country in 1857, settling at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Canada. He remained there but two years, coming to Fort Wayne, where he had resided for a long period of years. His residence here was interrupted by three years spent at Park City, Utah, from 1882 to 1885.

He married Miss Ellen Fitzgerald, of this city, in 1865, and she still survives to mourn his death. In 1867 he became a bailiff and constable and served in this capacity for a period of eight years. In 1875 he became a justice of the peace and has followed this calling ever since. During the period of his absence from the city in Utah he was also elected a justice at Park City. This stretches his period of public service to forty-three years, which is no doubt a record for continuous service. He was probably the oldest justice of the peace in point of service in northern Indiana.

Surviving are the widow and five sons, all of Fort Wayne. They are: John H., Hugh P., Edward, William and Joseph L. Tancey. There are also five grandchildren, namely: Ursula L., Frank G., Leonard J., Michael E. and Gerald Tancey, all of this city.

"Squire Tancey was a member of the Hibernian and the Holy Name societies. Funeral services Thursday at 8:30 at the house and at 9 o'clock from the Cathedral. Burial in the Catholic cemetery. Friends are asked to omit flowers." Auto funeral.

RED CROSS HAS WORK FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Kindergarten Starts Work on Trench-Torches to Be Used by Soldiers.

The Red Cross has received notice of the need of trench-torches by the soldiers and have turned over this work to the school children, who have been asked to help in the work. Chicago schools have finished a large number of these torches and have sent them to the front. Miss Margaret Coleman has started the children of her kindergarten classes to making these torches. The trench torch is of very simple construction, but of great use for it furnishes both light and heat. They are made by rolling paper in a very tight taper and are then soaked in paraffin.

The high school is now going to get a chance to do its bit as a result of the establishment of an auxiliary station there in charge of Mrs. Mary Edson.

DEATH MATTER OF ONLY FEW HOURS

The death of Judge Richard K. Erwin, chief justice of the Indiana supreme court, ill at St. Joseph hospital, is a matter of only a few hours, it was stated at the hospital Tuesday. He is gradually growing weaker.

Harry Gerten, Pennsylvania boiler-maker, is off duty on account of illness.

ROTARY CLUB OPENS SEASON WITH BANQUET

Members Pledge Themselves to Assist in Liberty Loan Campaign.

The Fort Wayne Rotary club opened the season Monday evening with a banquet at the Anthony hotel which was attended by practically the entire membership of the organization.

Ed R. Kelsey, secretary of the Toledo club, and governor of the seventh Rotary district, was the principal speaker of the evening. He pictured the seasons of the Rotarians as "the business man's season"—a play hour amidst the serious business of life.

Rev. Arthur J. Folsom told of the work of the international convention at Atlanta, motion pictures of the same being shown. President Robert Koerber outlined the future work of the club, among them being the club's assistance in a campaign to increase the acreage of crops throughout the county and the liberty loan campaign.

Endorsement of the liberty loan campaign and a pledge to assist in every way possible followed the introduction of a resolution by Arthur F. Hall.

Three new members were introduced by Frank E. Bohn, as follows: Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, representing surgeons; Fred G. Schwieler, of the Fort Wayne Printing company, and Claude G. Bowers, editorial writer of the Journal-Gazette.

Virgil and Winfred Horn, sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Horn, favored the members with two recitations which were heartily applauded. George Baillie acted as toastmaster.

LIVELY AND PRACTICAL.

Free Cooking School by Courtesy of Bursley & Co.

A free cooking school is being maintained this week in the basement of the Steele-Myers store in West Berry street that is certainly meeting with much praise from everyone who has attended. Mrs. Silvernail is the expert in charge and home-baking of plain substantial, like baking powder biscuits, doughnuts, bread, sour milk biscuits, cake and so on are on her list. The crowd yesterday ate doughnuts and biscuits so good and tender that they just melted away and yet gave one a most satisfactory sensation of having had something good to eat. Mrs. Silvernail is very easy to understand and to follow.

Ethel A. Jenkins Files Suit for Divorce from Charles.

She asks that the Wolf & Desauer company be restrained from paying him his wages until disposition has been made of her suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins were married last May and separated last Saturday. She says that her husband has a most unbecoming temper and frequently would call her names that would not look well in print. She asks for $25 attorney fees, the custody of her two children and other relief. The complaint does not state how she came by two children, the presumption being, however, that they are by a former marriage.

He has charge of the buying of all the supplies for five large canteens in training camp and has a hundred men serving under him. He has been in the army only two months and his promotion will come as a welcome surprise to his friends. There are now 12,000 men in the camp, but 50,000 are expected within the next few days.

MADE RECORD HERE.

Indianapolis News Tells of the Work of Major Ryan.

The Indianapolis News has the following to say of the work of Major Thomas F. Ryan, in charge of the Fort Wayne recruiting station, who has been transferred to Indianapolis:

"Major Thomas F. Ryan, who has been in charge of the United States army recruiting station at Fort Wayne, Ind., and who has recently been assigned to the recruiting station in Indianapolis, was expected to arrive here today to assume his duties."

"Major Ryan while in Fort Wayne made a record in recruiting, placing the Fort Wayne district ahead of all others in the country. This district provided more than 5,000 men for the army after April, more than the entire state quota, and it was largely through Major Ryan's efforts that Indiana was the first large state to fill its quota for the army. Major Ryan will be the head of the army recruiting service in the state."

Turner Takes Charge. Sergeant Arthur Turner, assisted by Sgt. Clint Cheney, Sgt. Joe Finan and Corporal Weedle are now in charge of the local recruiting station. All of the men enlisted Monday were sent to Indianapolis before going to the training camp.

Baker a Deserter. The police have been notified that John A. Baker, of Battery D, is a deserter and are now looking for him. The police found Baker's clothes in a barn some time ago.

Cherry Transferred. Charles S. Cherry, second lieutenant in the quartermaster's department, has been transferred from Fort Thomas, Ky., to Fort Worth, Texas.

"Broadway Gang" Honor Members. The Broadway gang, all members of the R. F. O. E., held a banquet Monday night in honor of four of their members who will leave Friday with the conscripted men. The evening was pleasantly spent in giving toasts and telling stories. Those of Gus Gocke were especially enjoyed. The four men leaving Friday are: Ernest Meyer, Fred Rippe, Lawrence Vetter and Arthur Wolke.

To Join Major Ryan. Sergeant Clint Cheney, together with Corporal Weedle, left Tuesday to join Major Ryan at the main recruiting office at Indianapolis. Sergeant Cheney is left in charge at the local station and reports that recruiting here shows no signs of giving up its cherished place in military annals. All recruits excepted here will be sent through this main office before going to the fort.

Organization Will Have Several Teams in Field During Campaign.

Members of the Kiwanis club, Tuesday, at their regular noon day luncheon at the Anthony hotel, pledged themselves to boost the second liberty loan bond sale both collectively and individually.

To help in the campaign the club will have several teams in the field under the direction of Robert Fowler. Mr. Fowler will announce his plans in detail later.

Some little time was devoted Tuesday in having fun at the expense of three newly married members, namely, Howard Benninghoff, president of the club, Chester Law and Al Monihan.

Dr. K. L. Seaman delivered an interesting address on the nervous system. C. H. Bates, vice president of the Steele-Myers company, presided as chairman.

The police received a call that James Webber, laborer, 1800 Boone street, was beating his wife, Tuesday noon. The patrol wagon was dispatched to the home. The wife was in tears and was fleeing down the railroad tracks. Stationmaster Degitz gave chase. He ran the man down and caught him a half mile away.

Webber is in jail. Police state that neighbors have told that he tossed his wife from the second story window of their home a week ago.

DEFEAT EAST ENDS.

The Fort Wayne Sporting club baseball team defeated the East End bangers by the score of 9 to 2. This was the "rubber" game of the series as both teams had won one. The Sporting club team lost one to the East Ends early in the season, which was the only game lost by this team this year. The batters were Mike Freese and Peck for the East Ends and Gritzenbaugh and Hamlin for the winners.

STRAW VOTE TO BE TAKEN

Fort Wayne Men at Camp Taylor Interested in May-oralty Contest.

NEW UNIFORMS ARE FURNISHED THE MEN

Preparations Are Being Made to Receive the Next Forty Per Cent.

By E. F. F.

(Staff Correspondent.) Camp Taylor, Ky., Oct. 2.—Vote of no vote at the coming fall election, Fort Wayne men in training at Camp Taylor are going to having the privilege of voting anyway. A straw vote on the card district for mayor of Fort Wayne are to be taken this week.

Although busy at all times much of the spare time, outside the discussion of the war is spent in conversing on the Fort Wayne election, its outcome and the possible successful candidates. Much interest is manifested in the may-oralty race and for this reason a straw vote has been suggested and accepted as a good plan.

All the Fort Wayne men in training here were fitted out with uniforms Saturday night. Sunday was spent in getting accustomed to the new outfits and the biggest complaint was that the breeches lacked hip pockets. Many of the new recruits had a difficult time in determining which was the right and left legging.

Preparations are being made to receive the next forty per cent of the quota who are scheduled to arrive at camp some time Wednesday evening.

Camp Life Agreeable.

With but one or two exceptions, Fort Wayne men are pleased with Camp Taylor and are enjoying the life of a soldier more than they had ever anticipated. Several stated that they would rather be here than back home working on the old job. Others state that they feel much better than they had for the past five or six years. Regularity of hours is believed to be instrumental in the health of the men. Thus far not a single man's name from Fort Wayne has appeared on the sick report from the Third regimental infirmary.

Mess Fund Nucleus.

All three companies of this battalion, whose members hail from Fort Wayne, are particularly anxious to receive donations for a mess fund. A nucleus is now in existence through the generosity of Max Weintraub, of Fort Wayne, whose liberal donation was received this week. All Fort Wayne young men were enraged when they saw the article in another article which appeared in another Fort Wayne newspaper which stated that the company need a company mess fund. The article in itself was misleading and the men here at the camp regard it as a piece of spite work. An officer stated that he had heard no swearing or cursing in the Fort Wayne companies until that article was read to all.

Happy Recipients.

Last week all the Fort Wayne men were elated over a gift which was presented to them by Dr. Max Rosenblatt, of Fort Wayne. Dr. Rosenblatt sent out one package of Fatima cigarettes to every Fort Wayne man in camp. All the men appreciated the gift very much as many were on the verge of bankruptcy while others were so nearly out of funds that the purchasing of smoking tobacco was impracticable.

Dr. Rosenblatt and Dr. L. Park Drayer visited the camp and were shown around the grounds. They were favorably impressed with the conditions in general.

Sunday was another visiting day and the camp was thronged with people who brought with them good things to eat. Bats of any kind are always appreciated by soldier boys.

Get Second Shot.

All the men who came to the camp on the last forty per cent received the second shot in the arm of typhoid serum Sunday morning. Those men on whom the first vaccination did not take were scratched the second time. Several became slightly ill but they soon recovered from the effects sufficiently to be about. Nearly all suffered from a light fever Sunday night.

The men who came to the camp with the first five per cent are finished with their shots in the arm, having received the final one last Tuesday.

Scrapping Sixty-Sixth.

Though the courtesy and generosity of Lieut. F. L. Davidson, commander of the Scrapping Sixty-Sixth company, stationery is being furnished the men which bears the inscription and name of the company.

The company has begun the practicing of football under the guidance of Captain Elvin C. Bair. He will make the selection of the team within the next few weeks after which hard practice will be begun in order that the team may be whipped into such shape as to beat all competitive teams. Edward Harkerkender has been named manager and has begun work of getting games.

The Scrapping Sixty-Sixth will place a scrapping football team in the field. This announcement comes from the captain and manager of the team and from the company commander.

Sign Pay Roll.

Fort Wayne men in the three companies signed their first army pay roll Sunday morning. The paymaster will undoubtedly visit the companies within the next five or six days. He will be as welcome a visitor to many as any that have yet come to the camp.

Mrs. Harry Wagner, of Fort Wayne, visited her husband at the camp Saturday and Sunday.

All the men are in good health.

BASKET BALL PRACTICE TO START AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Outlook for Fast Team This Season is Said to Be Good.

The senior class of the high school will have its first basketball practice this evening at the James H. Smart gymnasium. The juniors will practice on Wednesday evening; the sophomores on Thursday evening and freshmen on Friday evening. Prospects for a fast team this season are very good, according to Prof. Wright, who will coach the team. There is much good material among both the seniors and juniors. Berghoff, who played center last year, will be ineligible until February. White, a last year's freshman, will be given a tryout for Berghoff's position. White is a six footer and gives promise of making a splendid center.

A movement is on foot to secure St. Paul's gymnasium for the regular games which the high school team will play here. Bluffton, Liberty Center and Kendallville, each winners in their respective districts last year, have written for games. They will be included in the schedule which Prof. Wright will arrange within the next few days.

COMISKEY FORCED TO TURN DOWN FRIENDS

Chicago, Oct. 2.—It costs heavily in friends to play in a world series, President Comiskey, of the Chicago Americans, declared today as the last of the applications for reserved tickets to the base ball games here were re-mailed to the senders with explanation that no more tickets were available.

In this connection it is pointed out that during the base ball season there are perhaps 300,000 persons in Chicago who may be termed patrons of the South Side park, and who have expressed a desire to see the world's series games. The ball park will seat approximately 33,000 persons, which would indicate that there are several thousand patrons of the Comiskey park who are disappointed that their reservations were returned. Formal warning had been issued that the existence of a plot to counterfeit tickets for use by the scalpers is known and that steps have been taken to mark the original pastboards so they may be identified.

STANLEY EVERETT MAY FIGHT MASON

John J. Kelly, fight promoter from Chicago, is in the city in an effort to arrange a fight between Stanley Everett, of Peoria, and Frankie Mason, of Everett, who fights at 110 pounds, is said to be a corner. If an agreement can be reached an effort will be made to stage the match before some out-of-town club.

HARD WORK FOR HARPS.

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 2.—Twice a day from now on the Notre Dame men will be worked till whatever is in them will show. A stiff drill this afternoon uncovered immense improvement in Rockne's line. The varsity is hard at it in the big gym for tomorrow's scrimmage with the first team. The freshmen worked hard today at dummy tackling and are determined to give their big brothers some experience worth while.

WHO'S TO BE HERO OF THE 1917 WORLD'S SERIES? IN SEASONS PAST MEDIOCRITIES HAVE BUSTED IN

BY PAUL PURMAN.

Who is to be the hero of this world series? What player's work will stand out head and shoulders above them? Will it be an unknown youngster such as Rube of the Sox in 1906 or will it be a regular like Baker in 1912?

In past years the heroes have usually been players who surprised even the most studious dopesters. Last year it was Gardner. The year before

CHIEF ROWLAND'S GREAT WHITE SOX INFELD

Experts are wondering just how Rowland will arrange his inner cordon. In a statement recently issued, he has decided to start Weaver at short and McMullen at third, as this makes a stronger batting combination than with Risberg in the game. Concerning Gandil and Eddie Collins, there is no doubt as both are veterans. Collins leads in batting with .261, Weaver .289, Gandil .279, McMullen .240 and Risberg .196.

MANY CONTENDERS IN LIGHT HARNESS EVENT

New Futurity Record May Be Made on Lexington Course Today.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 2.—The richest light harness event of the season features the second day of the annual fall trotting meet here today. It is the $14,000 division Kentucky futurity for three-year-old trotters, mile heats, three in five. The race seems to be between Miss Bertha Dillon and The Real Lady, but a number of other worthy contenders will face the flag, including Bourbon Forbes, Emma Magowan, Leonard and Symphony.

Miss Bertha Dillon, record for setting a new world's record for three-year-olds at Columbus, O., recently, trotting a second heat in 2:03 1/4, probably will rule an early favorite. A rather peculiar situation exists in the futurity, inasmuch as past performances and form would indicate that the race is at the mercy of fillets exclusively. The records of colts and geldings entering preclude their possibility of winning on form.

A lightning fast track and the exceptional speed indicated by the marks of the entries gives rise to the prophesy of a new futurity record being made on the Lexington course today.

PENNANT CHASE HARD IN BOTH BIG LEAGUES

Winners Forced to Extend Up to Almost Last Days of the Season.

New York, Oct. 2.—While the winning of a pennant and the resultant participation in the world series is based upon the number of games won during the entire season of league play it is as a rule final games of the schedule in which the championships are clinched. At this period of the play the leading teams of each league are putting forth their greatest efforts in an attempt to capture first place and each day's struggle is fought out to the finish.

For this reason it has frequently been said that the true speed of a team in a world series can be gauged from the power of its play near the point where the pennant was mathematically won.

Based upon this assumption an analysis of the work of the Chicago Americans and the New York Nationals in the closing week of the present season should afford a somewhat general outline of the form which may be expected of the two clubs when they meet in the world's series of 1917. On the first day of September the Chicago White Sox were leading in the American league by 1/2 games over the Boston Red Sox, while the New York Nationals led the Phillies in the senior league by nine games.

In neither case was the lead so great that the runner-up club did not have a chance to overtake and pass the pace setters. Under the circumstances the New York and Chicago teams were forced to play their best game and despite an occasional defeat the records show that they traveled at high speed up to the very moment that the flag was won beyond peradventure.

During the first twenty days of September the New York Nationals played 23 games, of which they won 15 and lost seven, showing a winning average of .696 for that period. In the same number of days the Chicago White Sox played 15 games of which they won all but three, for an average of .800. In these fifteen games the Chicago players accumulated a total of 82 runs to their opponents' 54, or an average of close to five and a half runs per game. The Giants aggregated 80 runs in 23 games for an average of three and a half runs per contest while their opponents collected 55. If the opposing strength were equal in all games, which was not the case, however, it might be assumed that the White Sox attack was stronger than that of the Giants, while the latter's defense was harder to break through. The fact that these clubs did not, of course, face the same opponents must not be overlooked.

Much stress has been laid upon the respective ability of the pitchers of the two clubs and the part that these twirlers will play in the winning of the world series. For this reason a comparison of their box records during the period under consideration may be helpful to the followers of the game. The Giants have used Sallee, Perritt, Schupp, Tesreau and Benton for an average of 34 3/4 innings each in the twenty day period, while Demaree and Anderson have worked an average of 17 1/2 each.

For the White Sox Cloutte, Williams and Faber have borne the brunt of the pitching, having averaged forty innings. Danforth and Russell between them pitched twenty innings, an average of ten innings.

The work of the pitchers of both teams showing innings pitched, hits allowed and earned runs scored off their delivery follows:

CHICAGO.	In.	P.	Hits.	E. runs.
Cloutte	46	48	8	13
Faber	38	51	13	13
Williams	36	26	6	11
Russell	17	11	6	5
Danforth	13	17	6	1

NEW YORK.	In.	P.	Hits.	E. runs.

Perritt	35	35	6	13

Schupp	34	26	3	15

"MY MEN DESERVE ALL THE CREDIT"

So Says Rowland, Manager of the Champs of the American League.

BY PAUL PURMAN.

New York, Oct. 2.—"I have never felt like taking any credit for anything my ball club has done this year."

That was about the first thing and was unquestionably the most important thing that Clarence Rowland, manager of the American league champions, told me when I interviewed him yesterday. It was particularly unusual, because ball players, managers and all, as a general rule, do not seek to hide their lights under a bushel. It was important because it shows the spirit that has made the White Sox the class of their league this year.

Rowland desires to take no credit from any member of his team. His ball players appreciate this, and naturally he is getting the best results from them.

"Ball players are just like anybody else in the world," Rowland said. "The trouble with a lot of fellows is that they do not consider each individual separately and do not try to handle their individual characteristics as such."

"There is a lot of temperament on this ball team of mine, and there are fellows on the club who might be hard to handle if I did not study their idiosyncracies. However, I have made a point of examining each man's character and I am satisfied that by handling each according to his character, they have been able to get everything out of them that they had to offer."

"But all the credit for anything the White Sox have done this year belongs to the men themselves. They have worked very hard and they have done their best work at the times when we needed games to keep out in the lead. I have absolutely no complaint to make about any individual's work on the club and it gives me a lot of pleasure to be able to give them the credit for what we have done this year."

"What do you think about the possibility of McGraw sending his three left-handed pitchers against your club in the world series?" I asked Rowland.

"It doesn't bother me at all, and I don't believe it bothers any of the boys," he said. "We have done pretty well against the left-handed pitching in the American league this year, particularly well against Ruth and Leonard, of the Red Sox, and I don't believe that anyone of McGraw's three southpaws have anything on Ruth and Leonard."

"It's awfully hard to judge what ball players are likely to do in a short series like the world series, but I have absolutely no reason to have anything but confidence in their ability to hold their own with the giants."

Lending Business Dignity
-- To -- Household Purchasing

When buying for the home one's own check proclaims business-like methods. It adds that dignity of transaction which the business of running a home deserves.

Paying promptly by check promotes the idea of buying for cash and insuring upon getting value for every dollar. In these times when home economies mean so much to the family bank roll.

Women desiring to utilize the check system of the First and Hamilton National Bank will be presented with a neat check-book which is convenient to carry while shopping.

ALL TO SING AT FOOD FAIR

radish or sugar beet or a ten-eyed potato will have their product on exhibit.

Nearly 150 entries have been made already and others are urged to get in line in the effort to show what city farmers of Fort Wayne can raise.

The object of the displays is to show that food can be raised in the city. The motive for the several addresses will be to tell people how to raise more food on little back yards. Methods of killing insects will be told in an interesting way. Fall plowing to blight insect germs will be made to appear like a romantic adventure.

Above all will be held out the need for America to awaken in the line of producing more food. The fair is the first step in the movement for securing a more concerted food growing effort next year.

Young women from the Boss Manufacturing company will distribute pledges among the people in the evening. The cards which are to be signed will express the purpose of planting and raising more food bullets for beating the Kaiser.

Here is the Program.

The following is the program as revised by the Food Relief organization:

1:30 to 2—Band concert.
2 p. m.—Address by Dr. W. A. Stone, president of Purdue university.
Selection—Elks' band.
2:30 p. m.—Address by Dr. Christian Sihler, of New York City.
Selection—Elks' band.
3:00 p. m.—Address to Boys' working reserve by Carl Vrooman.
Selection—Elks' band.
3:30 p. m.—Band concert.
3:45 p. m.—Community singing led by Prof. William Miles.
4:00 p. m.—Address by Carl Vrooman.
Dr. W. A. Stone, president of Purdue university, is one of the most forceful speakers in the west on agricultural subjects. He will portray in an unadorned fashion the needs of the land and the methods for subduing autonomy.

Dr. Christian Sihler, a former Fort Wayne man, knows the practical ways of gardening. He was a pro-German at the opening of the war but has been convinced that the German method is one of selfish greed. He will tell why.

It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

must pay their wages; we must, as a humane nation, support their dependent families while they are risking and giving their very lives for us; we must supply them with a reasonable amount of life insurance. We destroy their insurability and convert almost the whole of their earning power when we draft them and send them to the front. We can do no less than restate their destroyed insurability and their diminished earning power.

Must Dominate Air.

"We must increase, strengthen and maintain our navy; we must provide a predominant fleet of airplanes and air fighters; we must build a great merchant fleet so that our long line of communication with our gallant soldiers in France may be maintained and our commerce carried across the seas in defiance of the German kaiser and his submarines; we must succeed our noble compatriots in arms—the British, French, Italians, Belgians and Russians—by lending them money with which they can buy arms and food and other supplies in our markets. All these things must be done and done quickly."

"It is upon the treasury of the United States that every demand in time of war focuses, because everything goes back to the gold pile. The problem of the American banker and the problem of the American people; it is the problem of keeping the treasury supplied with the means to carry forward these great objects under the direction of the commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, your president."

Fast Sum for Army.

"The money that we are raising by taxation and by bond issues is being devoted to these purposes. More than $8,500,000,000 of the money that you are going to provide this fiscal year is being expended or will be expended upon your army—upon from 1,800,000 to 2,500,000 of the bravest and most gallant soldiers that ever donned the uniform."

"And your navy, recruited to the full with brave tars, under whose uniforms bent the true hearts of American freedom, is being built up, equipped and manned with this money."

The Indianapolis district which comprises sixty-two counties of the state is called upon to furnish $95,200,000 of the loan.

GERMANS YIELD INITIATIVE ON WESTERN FRONT

French reports today that ten persons were killed and 38 injured.

While Britishers are urging reprisals for the German attacks on London, the French are actually conducting such retributive enterprises.

Sunday night they bombed the German city of Stuttgart, 100 miles behind the front-line, and last night the reprisals were continued on a larger scale. Stuttgart was again visited by French airmen and the Prussian city of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, with about 200,000 population and more than 125 miles from the French border, also was subjected to aerial attack. The Prussian towns of Treves and Coblenz were other places bombed by the French raiders.

Berlin's account of yesterday's fighting on the Flanders front in which the British admitted the pushing back of two of their advanced posts near the southwest corner of Polygon wood, claims the capture of ground here by the Germans to a depth of more than 500 yards. Russia's northern front troops have again shown aggressiveness, Petrograd reporting an advance of a mile by the Russian vanguards south of the railway in the Kronenberg-Spital-Groundull sector.

News is received of a revolt against the Russian controlling element in Turkey, central Asia, which is regarded as serious, the revolutionists having obtained control of the military and installed a revolutionary government.

FIREMAN FALLS FROM LADDER

fought the stubborn flames, which were smoldering in the heart of the coal heap. Five streams of water were finally able to subdue the blaze.

Damage is to the coal bunkers and to the coal elevating machinery, which are a part of the automatic coal stacking machinery at the top of the one-story building. There is little damage from loss of coal.

Fireman Miller mounted a ladder, which had been placed against the one-story shed. When six feet from the ground the ladder turned. The fireman fell to the ground bringing with him the line of hose. He was assisted to the automobile of Chief Hilbrecht and taken to his home where a physician was called.

SHAY TRIAL AGAIN POSTPONED.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—For the second time the trial of Dan Shay, former manager of the Milwaukee American association baseball club, charged with the murder of a negro waiter here, has been postponed. The trial was to have started today, but illness of one of the attorneys in the case caused it to be delayed indefinitely.

BEN LEHMAN HAS PASSED
Well Known Fort Wayne Merchant is Dead in Chicago.

WAS NOT KNOWN TO BE IN ILL HEALTH
Death Comes as a Shock to His Friends in This City.

Ben Lehman, prominent local merchant, proprietor of the Lehman Clothing company, died Tuesday morning at Chicago at the age of 57 years.

Mr. Lehman had been spending the summer at Charlevoix, Mich., endeavoring to gain strength after a period of illness. Funeral services will be held in Chicago Thursday morning.

While it was known that Mr. Lehman had been for some time indisposed, his friends here had no notion that he was in a serious state of ill health and his death comes to them as a sudden and great shock.

Ben Lehman had been a prominent merchant of Fort Wayne for thirty years. He was a member of the Order of Elks and the Knights of Pythias lodge. He belonged to Achuth Veslahom congregation.

Mr. Lehman was one of the most active workers in every movement for civic improvement. He had been allied with every important city enterprise during the past fifteen years. In business dealings he was known as a man whose word carried the strength of his bond made good.

Started on Small Basis.

Ben Lehman's start in business in Fort Wayne was on a meagre scale. He had a small part of what is now the Lehman Clothing store, 808-811 South Calhoun street. The store and business have grown from years of painstaking effort.

The family lived at 558 West Berry street until a few months ago, when preparations were made to move to Chicago. It was thought well to spend several weeks along the lake beach because of the husband and father's delicate health. He had shown symptoms of heart trouble.

It was not known on Monday that Mr. Lehman was in a critical state. His death came early Tuesday morning and shortly after a physician had been summoned. Heart failure is given as the cause for his demise.

Word of the death was sent to Frank Clemens, manager of the Lehman store. The store is closed. Many Fort Wayne business men will go to Chicago to attend the funeral on Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Surviving are the widow and two children, Katherine, aged 16, and Lawrence, aged 9. There are also two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Harry Meese and Mrs. Benjamin, of Cincinnati, and the Lehman, of Chicago.

Rabbi Aaron L. Weinstein, of Achuth Veslahom temple, of which congregation Mr. Lehman was long a member in this city, will go to Chicago to conduct the funeral services.

BOND SALES GOING WELL

York could not be learned today, but it is variously estimated at from $15,000,000 to $50,000,000. While a large over subscription is hoped for, the campaign managers are taking at least one-half of the $3,000,000,000 issue in this federal reserve bank district. Posters that both invite and demand subscriptions are being distributed and the net work of committees constituting a vast army of workers, are organized to carry the meaning of the loan into each home in the district.

Today it was announced that still another army of workers was being organized among industrial workers to be known as the "Rainbow division," to thoroughly canvass each industry.

Subscriptions thus far reported to the liberty loan headquarters range in size from $50, for which there were thousands of subscriptions, to $10,000,000 by the New York Life Insurance company.

The largest individual purchase was for $250,000 by John B. Manning. Other large subscriptions include $50,000 each by the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific Railroad companies and $25,000 each by the Manufacturers' Trust company, of Brooklyn.

SOLDIERS BUY BONDS.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Added impetus to the campaign for subscriptions to the new liberty loan was expected tonight when Wm. G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, will address a patriotic meeting.

While no figures were given out at the end of the first day's canvass by several hundred bond salesmen and committees from various organizations, the managers of the campaign said results were "eminently satisfactory." The largest subscription was by Swift & Co., which took $1,500,000 of the bonds. At Fort Sheridan, where four thousand student officers are in training, much interest in the loan is evidenced. Col. James A. Ryan, commandant, set an example for his men. "A colonel's salary is $4,000 a year," he said. "I'll buy bonds with one-fourth of it."

Each of three regiments at the camp has chosen representatives to act on a board which will solicit subscriptions among the men.

FINAL STAGE OF WAR MONEY BILL IS NOW ENTERED

Washington, Oct. 2.—The war tax bill today entered the last stage of legislative action. The conference report adopted unanimously yesterday by the house was taken up in the senate today with the leaders hoping for its adoption before adjournment but opposition centering on the increased second class mail rate made today's proceedings uncertain.

MONSTER PEACE DEMONSTRATION IN GERMAN CITY

Copenhagen, Oct. 2.—A monster demonstration in favor of peace without annexations was held on Sunday at Frankfurt on the Main. Leaders in the clerical, radical and socialist parties sponsored the demonstration. The crowd numbered forty or fifty thousand and addresses were made from six different platforms simultaneously.

INDIANA PYTHIANS MEET.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—More than 1,000 delegates from all parts of the state were here today attending the forty-ninth annual convention of the Indiana grand lodge, Knights of Pythias. The sessions of the grand lodge will close Wednesday. The annual meeting of the Pythian Sisters of Indiana will be held Thursday. Interest in today's session of the grand lodge centered largely in the election of officers this afternoon.

BOER LEADER'S PEACE IDEA.

London, Oct. 2.—Gen. Louis Botha, premier of South Africa, in addressing the opening of the convention of the South African parliament, said the war was forced upon the allies, and the only thing to do now was to fight to a finish. The premier added: "Let peace be one which will be beneficial to the whole world and enable every country to shape its future on a sound basis."

Try Making Your Own Cough Remedy

You can save about $2, and have a better remedy than any store-made kind. Easily done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you would hardly have in them all the curative power that lies in this simple "home-made" cough syrup which takes only a few minutes to prepare.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (60 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 65 cents and gives you a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and sugar syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes that line the throat, chest and bronchial tubes, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, and asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, be sure to ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything but a guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WALL STREET SHOWS CRUMBLING STUNTS
After Strong Opening of Specialties Rails Go Down on Liquidations.

New York, Oct. 2.—Specialties were the strong features at the opening of today's trading in stocks, some issues gaining one to one and one-half points. Rails were again heavy under the adverse influence created by new low records for St. Paul common and preferred, which fell to 51 1/2 and 58 1/2 respectively. Steels were fractionally higher. Liberty bonds were active at 99.94 to par.

All early advances were surrendered before the end of the first half hour on renewal of heavy liquidation in the rails. Lowest records for many years were made by several representative issues, notably St. Paul common and preferred, New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio and many of the other great railroads. Rescissions in these stocks extended from two to three points. Steels and other industries gave way under the general weakness, United States Steel reacting 3 1/2 points from its best. Coppers and shipbuilders broke one to three points with specialties.

Liberty bonds varied from 99.94 to par.

PENNY A MEMBER FOR LIBERTY LOAN BONDS

Whether the money be raised by assessing each member 1 cent or whether it be taken out of the league treasury will be left to the discretion of the leagues. The Franchise league enrolls about ten thousand members throughout the state. Contributions of more than 1 cent from individuals will not be refused, but the aim of the campaign is to buy bonds to the amount of a penny's worth for each member, thus working hardship to no one. MOTHER OF TEN HAS SIX IN THE SERVICE

Chicago Couple Doing All Possible for Nation in the War.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The nation's call to arms has gradually decreased the size of the family circle at the home of Richard A. McGauran until today the father, mother and four small sons are the only ones left out of a family of twelve. Six of the McGauran boys are in some branch of the national service and four at home declare their age alone keeps them out of the army or navy. Mrs. McGauran says she has sent every one of her sons away without shedding a tear.

"I've encouraged them to go," she said. "I feel that it is their duty and I have told them all good bye with a smile. If some of my boys do not come back, I'll have to bear it. Some boys of some mothers are bound not to return. I'll suffer no more than they. I'm only sorry that I have not some more boys to go."

"Think of the reunion some day when they all return," said Mrs. McGauran.

Among the cases are those of Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, convicted on charges of urging men of conscription age not to register. The motion was taken under advisement.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach or Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

Albion Man is Taken in Custody at Request of His Brother.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Albion, Ind., Oct. 2.—Arthur Butler is again behind the bars at the county jail at the request of a brother in Wisconsin who put up $200 for his release from jail some time ago, when he had been placed under bond for furnishing liquor to minors. The brother secured his release upon condition that he labor that sum, but he played "hooky," jumped the job, as it were, with the result that he is back in his old quarters. Sheriff Sawyer and Albion police were waiting for him upon his arrival here on Saturday night and immediately placed him under arrest.

ALEXANDER KIDS.

Vaudeville's Premier Juvenile Act—
All Girl Revue.

The Alexander Kids, the premier juvenile act of vaudeville, is tickling the ribs of crowded houses at the New Palace as a special added attraction presented in addition to the All Girl Revue. The Kids this season have lost what little of affection they may have had in previous years and the two older ones sing and dance with the polish and aplomb one might expect from artists years their senior. There's a third one this season, a tiny mite of kiddie, whose Hawaiian love song and Charlie Chaplin imitation are riotously amusing.

The All Girl Revue with its wealth of proved vaudeville timber is a snappy rapid-fire succession of singing and dancing specialties that run the gamut of a minstrel first part, a scene along the Nile and a foxy cabaret with some moments in a smart gown shop chucked in for good measure.

Long Tack Sam, the celestial wonder worker, whose needle trick has made him as famous as his remarkable acrobatic feats, is to feature the bill for the last portion of the week.

Style and Quality Are Closely Allied In Lehman Footwear!

Never before have shoes played so conspicuous and important a part in dress. The shorter skirts make it imperative that women's shoes be neat and smart, and slipshod, down-at-the-heel footwear is seldom seen. Not only women, but men also, are more particular about the appearance of their feet than in the past.

The shoe manufacturers have been fully alive to their opportunities. Shoes are more beautiful than ever before, and this store has been first to show the new styles, showing many exclusive models not obtainable elsewhere in this city.

Most important of all our achievements in Shoe Service, however, has been our maintenance of our high quality standards, always being in a position to guarantee to our customers the best value obtainable.

It Pays to Buy Good Shoes

There are many cheap grades of shoes which we consider unworthy of a place in this store. They may appear genteel at first glance, but comparison will prove their inferiority. And yet, OUR PRICES ARE MOST ATTRACTIVE. Ours are the kind of shoes it pays to buy—the most economical in the long run.

Opals in October

Your gift to one who observes a natal day this month will be appropriate if embellished with a fiery and iridescent opal. From ancient times the opal has been favored as October's birthstone, though in recent years the Tourmaline, a stone remarkable for its electrical qualities, has also enjoyed popularity as the birthstone. Beautiful pieces of jewelry containing either of these gems can be had at prices remarkably low in view of the unique designs.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens
So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautiful dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Woot's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Woot's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

STARTED NEW YEAR BY LOOSING ANGER

Ike Domisky Leaves Religious Service to Receive Blow in the Eye.

The new year should be started with a smile, tradition says.

Whether the new year starts with the pealing bells on January 1, or if it be the solemn chant which ushers in another cycle for the Jewish folk on September 25, there should be the joy of a new founded hope in every breast.

Testimony in police court Tuesday morning stated that Nathan Kaplin, proprietor of a shoe repair shop on East Main street, trampled the age-old doctrine when the Jewish new year was welcomed last week. His bearing was one of anger, it was told.

Kaplin attended the religious service in honor of the dawning year at the Moose hall, according to testimony. So did Ike Domisky, a shoe repair workman, so to the gathering of his people. When service had ended the two men met before the hall.

"Why do you try to take my workmen from me?" Kaplin is said to have asked.

He did not wait for an answer, according to evidence. He hit Domisky in the eye, it was brought out.

Domisky had Kaplin arrested on an assault and battery charge. Kaplin then had Domisky arrested on a like complaint. After the hearing Tuesday morning Kaplin was fined $15 and costs and Domisky was discharged. Kaplin is arranging to appeal the case.

Gates Are Cheap. Railroad men testified that it cost the Wabash and Pennsylvania railroad companies but $5 to replace the Lafayette street gates which George Kappel, 18, shattered in a drive across the tracks a week ago.

Kappel stated that as the hour was late he was in a hurry to reach home. He could get no response from the watchman at the crossing, he told in court. As only three cylinders on his car were working he did not want to go out of his way. He drove crashing through the gates, leaving a wake of ruin.

"I wonder what would have happened if all cylinders on the car had been working," said Judge H. W. Kerr. "I suppose you would have taken the watchman's shanty." Kappel was fined $1 and costs and will also pay for the broken gates.

Other Police Court Cases. Fred Sheldon, saloon proprietor, at the corner of Fairmount and Wells, is charged with associating. He will be tried on next Tuesday.

Bud Slater, charged with public intoxication, was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days at the county infirmary. He is afflicted with motor-tail.

Other intoxication cases were: Ernest Webber, of Marion, fined $10 and costs; Lloyd Blanton, Charles Rhodes, Albene Jenart, Roy Webber and Ray Stanley were released.

The following were released after pleading guilty to loitering charges: Alexander Goldschitz, Ray Miller, Edward Carson, Raymond Rebel, Elsworth Burdick, Cecil Klint, James Smith, Robert Bower and Harry Gresh.

MISS BONHAM MAY BE FATALLY INJURED

Lucile Bonham, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bonham, 1137 Lake avenue, was the most seriously injured of any of the occupants of the car driven by Miss Ethel Zimmerman, 1118 Columbia avenue, that turned over on the Lincoln highway, near the Four Mile house, Sunday afternoon.

She is at the Lutheran hospital and passed a very poor night, according to the attending physician. She is injured internally and may be fatally hurt. Mrs. Frank Zimmerman, mother of Miss Ethel Zimmerman, was badly cut about the face, and Mrs. George E. Miller, 1023 Crescent avenue, another passenger, was painfully bruised. Miss Zimmerman was not seriously injured.

MAKES DENIAL.

R. E. Kauffman Had Nothing to Do With Bomb Plot Story.

R. E. Kauffman, of New Haven, has entered a most emphatic denial to any connection whatever with the story that I. W. W.'s or German sympathizers had placed a bomb in a coal pile at the plant of the Cream of Rice company at that place. Mr. Kauffman says he knew nothing of the story until he saw it in the newspapers.

It seems that some practical New Haven joker had written a letter revealing the alleged plot and had signed it "Patriotic League of New Haven, R. E. Kauffman, chairman." Mr.
Kauffman denies having ever written such a communication or even knowing of the existence of the organization of which he is credited with being the chairman.

LOCAL MARKETS

COOL WEATHER HAS EFFECT ON MARKET

Tomatoes Unusually Plentiful, With Price About $1.40 Bushel.

There was a good market this morning, although considering the past cool days, less in produce and a much smaller attendance than on last Saturday. There were bushels and bushels of tomatoes, much better, both in ripeness and quality, than have been seen in three weeks. The price kept hovering around $1.40, some going to $1.50 and less fine ones dropping to $1.25. Eggs were plentiful and sold for 42 cents, while butter kept its own at 48 cents. There were not many potatoes and the best ran as high as $1.60 a bushel and some others of small and graded for extra table use, were from $1 to $1.25. Peaches were on every side for sale by hucksters and they kept the price soaring around the $2 mark, the inferior fruit dropping now and then to $1.75. Green tomatoes sold fairly high, a dollar a bushel. Pears held their own at $2 a bushel. Cabbage, stacks of celery, spinach, lettuce, endive, leeks and green onions, beets, carrots, egg plant, melons and many other small garden stuff were displayed and the most of them sold.

COAL OPERATORS AND MINERS STILL APART

Belief is That a Wage Scale Will Be Found by Compromises.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Representatives of coal miners in the central competitive field rejected today a proposal by operators offering in part the wage increases demanded. Conferences will be continued. The operators met the miners' demand for an increase of 15 cents a ton in pick and machine mining with an offer of 5 cents and proposed an advance of $1 a day for unskilled labor instead of the $1.90 asked. The demand for a straight 20 per cent increase in pay for yardage and dead work drew a counter proposal of 20 per cent in Ohio and Pennsylvania with an equal amount in cents to be paid in Indiana and Illinois.

The operators proposed a contract for the period of the war instead of one lasting for one or two years, and suggested provision for enforcement. They would have the contract drawn subject to the approval of the fuel administration. At the end of a morning conference it was said the operators and miners probably would get together before the week was over, each yielding somewhat. Both sides are looking to the fuel administration to increase prices to absorb the wage raises agreed on.

TAXES PUTTING MANY SALOONS ON CHUTES

One Thousand Grogeries in New York City Alone Are Extinguished.

New York, Oct. 2.—Unable to cope with the multiplicity of federal and state taxes and the increased cost of all intoxicants, 1,000 saloons and retail liquor stores in Greater New York have closed their doors, according to estimates made today by excise tax hoards. Yesterday when the license fee of $1,500, which must be paid in advance, became due, hundreds of places failed to open their doors.

In smaller cities the operation of the new state law providing that after September 30 there could be only one saloon to every 500 inhabitants in political subdivisions having less than 55,000 population will result in closing some 1,500 saloons in the state, according to William M. McClenahan, president of the Retail Liquor Dealers' association. If the present situation continues, Mr. McClenahan said, 3,000 saloons in the state will have to close their doors in the next six months.
